Background Note

State level Association (SLA/SLC) is an association of all concerned and players who are involved in Agriculture and allied value chain (e.g. Civil Society actors, FPOs, Development Donor agencies, Government Departments, Market players, Agriculture Universities and Agriculture extension agencies among others). The SLA would be a for-profit or not-for-profit making entity, working directly with Farmer Organizations to help mitigate the difficulty of farmers through Institutional Development services, capacity building services, system and process integration, technical training dissemination, financial intermediation, Market linkage development, policy advocacy and facilitating social security and economic development.

The SLA strongly believes in capacitating the people's institutions to become sustainable in managing their business and development affairs. This belief held as a non-negotiable value, the SLA will be determined and committed to promote self-regulation and making the Farmer institutions and community based organizations as self-managed, self-controlled and self-owned institutions by focusing on: building the capacities and skills of the community organizations in terms of governance, administration, fund and technical resource mobilization, financial management, building and practicing norms and standards, efficiently conducting their business, demonstrating the values of transparency and accountability, reducing risk and vulnerabilities, accessing rights and entitlements and achieving sustainability.

It wishes to see the farming society developed, and farmers “experiencing change from food shortage to food sufficiency and food producing for household consumption to food producing for market demands and organizing of farmer products system from farms to markets”

The primary objective of SLA is to promote and facilitate the development of sustainable FPOs in the State. The nested objectives of establishment of the State level Association are to promote FPOs and provide the farmer's access to real producers, market approach and to facilitate the status of social, economic and operational sustainability.

- Expand areas of SLAs in other states.

- Ensure, a model for delivering services to the FPOs on a sustainable basis is tested & assessed.
- Delivery of institutional, business, infrastructure and financial services is carried out for FPOs, on a basis leading towards sustainability.

- The progress of the partners towards the overall goal is supported and monitored; advice is provided to the partners to assist them in reaching their respective targets.

2. Scope of Work

The role of the State Level Producer Company (SLPC) would be mainly focused on business development and exploiting the collective strength of FPOs with market players to leverage the efforts of member FPOs and create sustained value for FPOs and farmers associated with them. A State Level Producer Company (SLPC) of FPOs would negotiate with manufacturers, suppliers of goods and services, financial institutions, traders, processors with market players for better realization of price for the farmers produce through the FPOs. A representing FPO company with a business mandate will be in a better position to scan the market to identify the needs of various categories of consumers, give inputs to the value addition efforts of member FPOs and systematically engage with the business community. Opportunities open up in the areas of input supply, processing, contract farming, export of commodities/processed products, retailing etc.

The SPC will help the FPOs have network across the state and the country to be able to facilitate and explore these opportunities, enter into agreements with large market players and deliver the value to the member FPOs and the end farmer associated with these FPOs.

Those FPOs which are already into marketing of products can benefit from SPC with the possibilities of developing longer value chains or exploring untapped markets for their products. SPC will be in a better position to attract finance from various sources, which otherwise is difficult with smaller and emerging FPOs alone. These smaller and emerging FPOs will gain from the presence of this apex company to generate a market for its products and also gain necessary knowhow which will help them compete with other market players.

The business plan of SPC will be aligned to the business plan of member FPOs (not covering all products and business areas but which are common and/or where gaps exist). This will make the concept of an SPC viable and need based.

Considering SFAC would play an even bigger role on the national platform, FPOs associated with the SPC could directly or indirectly benefit from the initiatives that would be taken up by SFAC.
